

Win A Stylish CITY BREAK

Fancy a VIP trip to Toronto Fashion Week with three nights in a boutique hotel, plus sight-seeing and shopping galore? This is your chance to win the ultimate city break

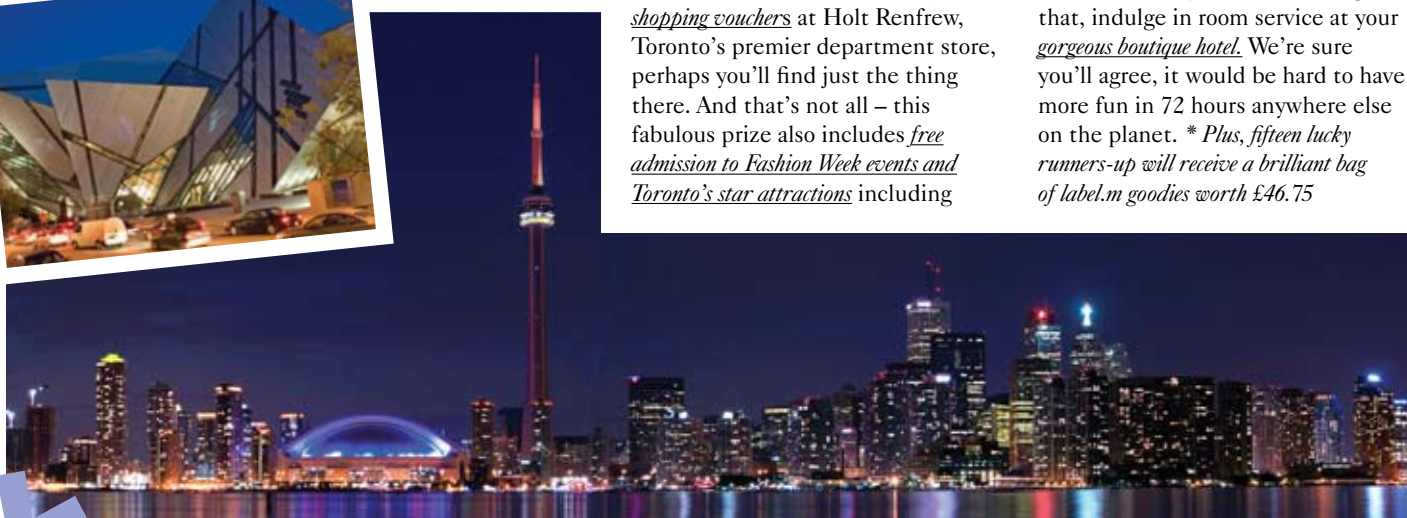

As the nights draw in, Toni&Guy, the Canadian Tourism Commission, Ontario Tourism and Air Canada have joined forces to brighten up the winter months for you with a fabulous prize giveaway. Three lucky winners will be able to take a guest each on a whirlwind luxury three-night city break to Toronto, Ontario for Fashion Week (return flights included).

A vibrant and cosmopolitan city, Toronto's style credentials extend everywhere – from the fancy boutiques of Bloor-Yorkville to the boho chic of trendy Queen St West. In fact, there's so much shopping fun to be had that you might have to buy a whole new suitcase. And with one hundred Canadian dollars-worth of shopping vouchers at Holt Renfrew, Toronto's premier department store, perhaps you'll find just the thing there. And that's not all – this fabulous prize also includes free admission to Fashion Week events and Toronto's star attractions including the CN Tower (the world's tallest), Toronto Zoo and the ROM.

But that's just the day time – by night, this glamorous city comes alive, so head to one of Toronto's world-renowned restaurants and relax in sophisticated surroundings as you gear up for a night of mischief in North America's most densely populated nightclub district.

If the hangover permits, pop to an art exhibition the next day; if it doesn't, admire the stunning gallery exteriors from the comfort of your taxi as you speed to a restorative spa session. Alternatively, a trip to Harbourfront, the city's buzzing and beautiful lake-front neighbourhood, is sure to clear your head. Failing that, indulge in room service at your gorgeous boutique hotel. We're sure you'll agree, it would be hard to have more fun in 72 hours anywhere else on the planet. *Plus, fifteen lucky runners-up will receive a brilliant bag of label.m goodies worth £46.75
